TO STANDARD.

Montevideo, May 6th.

In spite of the summons from the judge, the Editor of the Montevideo Times has continued his series of articles in the Dia in reply to Dr. Palomeque's articles regarding the assassination of Lewis, the Manager of Central Uruguay railway. To-day Mr. Denstone, proprietor of the Times, received an informal summons from the judge to present himself for a conciliatory meeting with Carvalho. This is a mere formality preliminary to a suit on part of Carvalho against the Times for damages on account of attacks against his honor and private tranquillity (sic). Meanwhile Dr Palomeque has published in the local press a statement to the effect that he has nothing to do with the summons against Denstone for his reply to Palomeque's articles in favour of murder. As I stated previously Carvalho is determined, to work his "gringocide" for all it is worth, while the editor of Times is undaunted in his condemnation of murder.

News from seat of war is scarce. Lamas is north of Rio Negro and, being unable to cross it, is moving towards Artigas. Six hundred thousand cartridges for rebels, which had passed at Concordia as hardware, were detained at Uruguayana by the Brazilian authorities.

Madame Flores, wife of the Spanish Consul in Paris, burned in conflagration of charity bazaar, was a daughter of the late Sr. Mendevielle of Montevideo.

Next Saturday the President, Ministers of War and Finance, prefect of the Capital and chief of headquarters-staff will hold a review and mimic combat in which will take part the urban and suburban battalions, and the police and public safety battalions.

Nothing new in regard to the conflict between Government and charity commissioners. The latter will probably resign.

Senate has not yet passed the war loan. The special committee will study the matter longer than the Chamber did and probably present certain modifications, such as emission of four million loan in series and at eighty per cent of face value.

It is said that Congress will pass a law according pensions equal to full pay to the widows and orphans of officers who fell at the battle of Tres Arboles.

Deputy Barrabino, in private life a druggist, will propose a law, regulating pharmacies, similar to the Argentine law on the same subject.

The steamship Britannia, Argentine flag, had to anchor thirteen miles from this port on account of an accident to her machinery. Two tugs went to her aid, but were not needed. She made her own repairs and went on her way to La Plata.

In a Cabinet Council it was decided to disband the military forces drawn from Colonia, Canelones and San José in order to allow them to take up their agricultural labors. This decision indicates a feeling of security on the part of Government.

I have just seen the platinographic reproduction of Abdon Arostegui's letter intercepted by Government. It is beautifully done and leaves no doubt as to authenticity of the letter.

THE WAR.

Great Turkish victory.

General retreat of the Greeks.

Lord Salisbury says there will be no European war

The fire tragedy in Rue Jean Goujon.

Rome, 6th—To-day, in the Chamber of Deputies, Count Bonin Longare, subsecretary of the Foreign Office, stated that there, unfortunately, remained no doubt that the members of the Bottego expedition had been massacred in Abyssinia by the Galas tribe.

Athens, 6th The news of the fresh reverses suffered by Greek arms at Velestina and Pharsalus has caused extraordinary emotion in this capital. It is known that the Turkish artillery proved far superior to that possessed by the Greeks, and that it caused immense loss to the defenders of the Hellenic positions. Two villages occupied by the forces of the Crown Prince were completely destroyed by the Mussulman shells.

The inhabitants of Athens are beginning to be seized by panic.

Paris, 6th—The mortal remains of the Duchess de Alencon are to be buried in Dreux in the Royal Chapel of the Orleans family.

Paris, 6th—Up to this hour, 10,30 p.m., no fresh body has been found beneath the debris of the burnt bazaar. Of the five which remained unidentified one has just been recognized as that of M. Mazure, a well known paper manufacturer in the Vosges.

Paris, 6th—Telegrams expressing sincerest condolence were this afternoon exchanged between the Emperor Francis Joseph and M. Faure in connection with the catastrophe on Tuesday and the tragic death of the Duchess de Alençon who was a cousin of the Empress Elizabeth.

Amongst the hundreds of other telegrams M. Hanotaux received one from Count Mouravieff the Russian Minister for Foreign Affairs. The President of the Swiss Confederation, the Queen Regent of Spain and Sr. Cánovas del Castillo have sent telegrams of deepest sympathy with France in her mourning.

Constantinople, 6th—A telegram has been received announcing that the Turks under General Edhem Pacha have taken Pharsalia after a most brilliant victory.

Vienna, 6th—The Chamber of Deputies adjourned its sitting to-day as an expression of regret for the Paris catastrophe.

Paris, 6th—General Munier succumbed to the injuries received at the fire on Tuesday at 6 o'clock this evening. The dead bodies continue to be identified only four now remain unrecognized.

St. Petersburg 6th :— The different Powers have expressed their assent to the proposal of the Russian Foreign office in favour of a mediation in the Greco-Turco Question should Greece agree to this.

Athens, 6th :— Prince Constantine's Army retreated last night on Domoko in good order leaving Colonel Smolenski troops in Pharsalia. These will also retreat either on Volo under the protection of the Greek squadron or to Almyro to join Prince Constantine later on.

London, 6th (2.40 p.m.)—A telegram has this moment been received on the result of the battle which began early this morning between Greeks and Turks in Pharsalia. The Greeks were defeated after a bloody fight, and abandoned their positions, retreating towards Domoko.

Athens, 6th—It is a general opinion that the Great Powers would have interfered in the war long ago, had Greece expressed her willingness to accept an armistice, which she will probably have to do shortly.

Rome, 6th—Cipriani, the Socialist Deputy, has been arrested in Athens, charged with fomenting disturbances among the people by playing on the Republican sentiments.

Deptford, 6th—Three hundred and fifty Argentine steers were sold to-day at 38 to 42 pence per stone, also 1670 Argentine wethers at 48 pence per stone. There is a greater demand for steers. All that were offered found buyers. There is also a good demand for wethers.

Athens, 6th—The battle of Pharsalia, which commenced yesterday at midday, lasted up to close on six o'clock. The Turks were finally repulsed. Prince Nicholas behaved very bravely and was cheered by his troops, who kept their positions in spite of the furious attacks of the Turks under General Hiaki, who also behaved bravely all through the fight.

Paris, 6th—The total number of people killed in the catastrophe is 117. General Munier, at first stated to be killed, is alive; and although his injuries are very serious it is expected that he will recover. Four of the victims were buried to-day by their respective families. Twelve others will be interred to-morrow. The State will defray the funeral expenses of the rest of the victims.

Athens, 6th—According to telegrams from Pharsalia it is generally believed in the Greek encampment that the Turks will again attack with reinforcements.

THIS MORNING'S TELEGRAMS.

(Received after Midnight.)

London, 6th—At a political meeting of the Primrose League, held to-day, Lord Salisbury announced that all fears of complications arising from armed interference by the Balkan States had now disappeared and that there was every reason to hope that the Greco-Turkish war would quickly be brought to a close.

Athens, 6th—Bulletins published to-night state that the forces of Prince Constantine have fallen back, in perfect order, on Domoko whither they have transported all their artillery and military stores.

Notwithstanding the advantages gained by the Turks, thanks to their numerical superiority and that of their modern artillery, The Crown Prince and his staff yet entertain hopes of being able to lead the Greek army to victory.

Berlin, 6th—The German Reichstag, in to-day's sitting, passed by a large majority the Bill for regulating emigration, brought forward by the Government. The Socialist Deputies fought the measure for several hours.

Vienna, 6th—A telegram from Volo announces that Smolenski's brigade was routed by the Turks as it was evacuating Pharsalus. The Royal family in Athens is being menaced by the populace which it is feared will rise and proclaim a Republic.

Paris, 6th—It is announced from Berlin that the Emperor William telegraphed to-day to Prince von Radziwill to represent his Majesty and the Imperial family at the funeral service for the victims of the Rue Jean Goujon catastrophe which is to be held on Saturday in the Cathedral of Notre Dame. It is also known that Mr. Faudel-Phillips, Lord Mayor of London, will come expressly to attend the ceremony which will be on a very imposing scale.

THE NEW SESSION.

The Argentine Constitution prescribes the Congress Session shall open on 1st May and run to 30th September; in this regard, as in many others, the national covenant is a dead letter, for in our long journalistic career we do not remember a year when either date has been respected. There can be no doubt that the spirit of the Constitution is also violated, since when the framers of that noble deed limited the Session of Congress to five months, it was with the merciful intention of saving the country from the evils of over-legislation. In spite of all solemn prescriptions to the contrary, we may assume that the session that opens to-day will extend to the end of the year, if not into 1898.

All the interest of to-day's ceremony is centred in the inaugural Address of the President of the Republic, who sketches the condition of the country politically, economically, and financially, and gives, as a rule, a clear statement of the policy of the National Executive. In these latitudes the policy of a government resolves itself chiefly into financial dealings, and politics are viewed as a secondary consideration. We all know the international line of conduct in our relation with the States of the world: we also know fully well the gist of home politics with their weary routine of interventions: but what we do not know is the exact state of the National Treasury, and what measures the President will adopt to balance revenue and expenditure, consolidate the national finances, or settle the provincial debts.

Congress, with a light heart, has saddled on the National Government the luxurious extravagauce of paying a bonus to the foreign creditors in the shape of one year's full interest on the National Debt, and to carry out this sentimental financing we know that the Minister of Finance must cut down the Budget Expenditure and the public must pay several millions more excise. The market is eager to appreciate the proportions of these economies, and to hear from the President of the Republic how far the revenue of the last five months enables one to give a forecast of the financial results of the year. These are matters of absorbing interest, not only here but in London, and we are informed that the Presidential Message will furnish full particulars as to facts and figures.

It is even whispered that some of the statements in the inaugural address will be a pleasant surprise to the market, in so far as the National Treasury is in a far more satisfactory condition than anticipated at the beginning of the year, when the late Congress broke up in the midst of all the opprobium of the enormously increased expenditure voted in the Budget of the current year. Since last March we had frequent occasion to foreshadow in these columns the flourishing state of the revenue, and to call attention to the singular contrast afforded by a market in difficulties, of a country afflicted with heavy losses, yet an increasing and elastic revenue filling the coffers of the Government. The secret of this disparity lies in the wonderful recuperative powers of the Republic, also in the circumstance that the revenue is not directly affected by the loss of the wheat crop. In every other country the wholesale destruction of the wheat fields of Santa Fé, Cordoba and Entre Rios would cause an immediate and very visible shrinkage in the powers of consumption; here, strange to say, our imports, as a whole, are steady as ever, and the Customs revenue has not suffered.

Furthermore, it is understood that the National Government has performed a financial "tour de force" by depositing in London all the funds necessary to meet the full interests on the National debt for six months. If so, we congratulate the Minister on his successful financing and on the excellent impression that the confirmation of such a rumor in the President's Message will have on all interested in the country. But we regret to think that such pleasing announcements at the very opening of the session will tend to increase the extravagant notions of the National legislators. We can imagine the smile of complacency that will flit across the countenances of Senators and Deputies as they listen to the good tidings, and who can fathom the mental reservations as to increased pensions, increased salaries, increased subventions, increased public works, forged up by Minister Escalante's figures and financial assurances?

Thus Congress opens to-day with great expectations as to the satisfactory statements of the President, and with a feeling of distrust that the members of Congress will go off their heads and begin voting money by the million. An experience of many years proves to satisfaction that Congress legislation is dangerous to the country, and but for the brains of the National Executive the votes of Congress would have ruined the Republic beyond all hope years ago. We do not suppose that this session will be any improvement on previous ones, politics will probably make it worse. But the market has some guarantee in the President and his Minister of Finance to curb the extravagance and mistaken liberality of both Senators and Deputies.

We shall be extremely thankful if the Congress session of 1897 does not wind up with a Budget of 200 millions.

THE WAR IN EUROPE.

While awaiting the result of the fighting at Pharsalus, we may, without wearying the interest of our readers, endeavour to draw an outline of the Cretan dispute, in which task we are assisted by the mass of review and magazine literature — nearly all of a marked philohellenic character—received by the last mail. We find in one leading review an interesting though one-sided article by Mr. D. N. Botassi, Greek Consul-General in New York. This gentleman and functionary says:—

The present insurrection of Crete is the ninth since that unhappy island came into the possession of the Turks in 1699. In 1821—the Greek War of Independence—Crete revolted with the other islands against the rule of the Sultan, but when, by the treaty of London of 1830, Greece became an independent Kingdom, the island was handed back to Turkey, and since that time the insurrections of the Cretans have been periodical and, at times, very serious.

It is generally admitted that Crete has been always one of the worst governed provinces of Turkey, and no Christian people in the Ottoman Empire suffered more than the Christians of Crete at the hands of their Mussulman rulers. In 1840 the island was handed over to Mehemet Ali of Egypt, but shortly afterwards the Turks took possession again and ruled with such high hand that in 1866 a formidable insurrection broke out which lasted over two years. The brave islanders came very near attaining their cherished hope, union with Greece, had it not been for the jealousy of the European Powers and the distrust of each other, which enabled the Turks to become masters once more. That war cost the Turkish Treasury more than $30,000,000, or as Ali Pasha, the grand vizier, remarked at the time, more than the cost of the Crimean war.

At the end of 1868 an organic law was promulgated, making some liberal concessions to the Cretans, but, as usual, they were never put into practice, and dissatisfaction and chaos were the result.

After the signature of the San Stefano treaty the Cretans made an earnest appeal to the Berlin Congress, through the Greek delegates, for the amelioration of their pitiful condition, and the result was the insertion of the following article in the Berlin treaty:

"Article XXIII.—The Sublime Porte undertakes to apply scrupulously to the Island of Crete the Organic Law of 1868, whilst introducing into it the modifications which may be considered advisable."

The Turks signed the treaty, but never troubled themselves about the organic law. A fresh insurrection (1878) broke out, and the Porte resorted to its usual tactics, promises, and sent Mukhtar Pasha to pacify the island, with full powers to grant certain privileges in accordance with the above organic law. Negotiations began at once between the Turkish Commissioner and the Christian delegates, and the result was the treaty of Halepa, signed on the 15th of October, 1878.

By the terms of that treaty the Governor of the Island was to be a Christian, and a limited measure of autonomy was granted. But the new regime did not work, or in plainer terms the Turks did not let it work. A Christian governor was appointed, it is true, but a military governor was sent at the same time, who had the command of the troops, and being a Mussulman could act independently of the civil governor. The position of the former became thus untenable, and after the appointment of one or two more Christian governors, with no better result, the Porte threw off the mask and a real Mussulman was sent finally. The concessions of the Halepa Treaty were withdrawn one after another, and that famous instrument became eventually a dead letter.

The result was another insurrection in 1889, which so exasperated the Sultan that he abolished formally all the privileges granted by the Halepa pact.

The island has been in a state of ferment ever since, and in July last (1896) open hostilities broke out between Mussulmans and Christians with the accompanying evils of plunder, massacre, and the burning of villages. These troubles culminated eventually in open insurrection; the Christians took to the mountains and occupied the principal strategic positions, and sympathizing volunteers went to their assistance from Greece. Had the Greek government encouraged the insurgents then, things would not have come to the dangerous point they have now reached.

The Consul General has a fling at the European Concert farce. Here is what he says about the shibboleth Preservation of Turkish integrity:—

The idle talk about the integrity of the Turkish Empire deceives nobody today. The dismemberment of Turkey began over 100 years ago. In 1783 Turkey lost the Crimea. In 1830 she lost Greece. In 1857 Moldavia and Wallachia, the two Danubian principalities, were united, and finally became the flourishing kingdom of Roumania under King Charles in 1877. In 1862 the Turkish garrison evacuated Belgrade, and in 1878 Servia became an independent kingdom. Bulgaria is virtually independent under Prince Ferdinand, and Turkey quietly acquiesced in the absorption of Eastern Roumelia in 1887. Kars and Batum were snatched by Russia in 1878. England seized Cyprus in the same year, and Austria was comfortably installed in Bosnia and Herzegovina. Where is the alleged integrity of the Turkish Empire in the face of the above historical facts?

Turning to the progress of the war, two telegrams were received yesterday with reference to the battle at Pharsalus. One states that the Turks triumphed all along the line, and the other says that the Greeks were victorious. We must therefore await further advices in order to find out which is the right version.

The Turks in Epirus, under Hifzi Pasha, have dislodged the Greeks from Mount Kilberim. This is a very important position, as it practically commands Arta. Two Turkish regiments are marching on Karditza, a small town south of Trikala. The Greeks intend cutting off these two regiments.

Telegrams from Volo—which have a strong Greek flavour—state that the Turks have been defeated at Valestina. This would make defeat number two, for only three days ago it was reported that the Turks were repulsed at that point.

It is said that Mustapha Pasha, Governor of Janina, has been arrested and sent to Constantinople, by order of the Sultan. M. P. does not appear to have distinguished himself as he should have done in opposing Col. Manos, who won hands down at the outset.

The latest telegrams received leave no room for doubt that the Greeks have been utterly defeated at Pharsalus and have been forced to fall back on Domoko, where the Crown Prince talks of making a fresh stand. However from the advices received from the Western Capitals of Europe it seems very possible that we have seen the last of serious fighting and that, with incipient panic in the Greek Capital, King George will reconcile himself to asking for the mediation of the Great Powers.

Another promising feature of the day is the milder attitude assumed by the Balkan States, brought about probably by the exhibition of force by the Sultan in announcing his intention to raise the Turkish army in Europe to half a million men—an attitude which at the same time renders it possible for the Porte to express its willingness to accord to Greece reasonable and honourable terms of peace.

TRAVELS IN THE ANDES.

(By G. B.)

At a place called Paine we met a Chilian Government-engineer, Mr. Steege, with his staff, constructing bridges and cutting a wide road through the forest. This important road will be ready in a few months and will communicate in almost a straight line with the lake Tromun-Leuquen at the Villarica Pass on the Argentine frontier. It commences at Temuco, the railway-terminus nearest the Cordilleras, and this shortens the road considerably. The bridges are evidently made strong enough to carry cannon: a significant sign! Another road is very nearly finished to the Lonquimay Pass, a few leagues north of Palmari, also commencing at a railway terminus. The Chilians are evidently not going to be caught napping in case of an accident, which can not exactly be said of their Argentine "brothers".

The only road I know of is that from General Acha to Chosmalal: through a waterless country and therefore perfectly useless for marching troops over. Besides, the Argentine troops are kept at a respectful distance from the frontier, why, is hard to tell, as it can not possibly be the reason given me by an officer in Roca, viz: that being near the frontier the troops would be exposed to a sudden "Golpe", as he called it, from the Chilians.

Arriving at a small settlement called Panquin we were shown the road leading to the hot springs, about two leagues distant. Accordingly we left the cleared track and plunged again into the forest, following a narrow and very bad mule-path leading up the side of a mountain.

After two hours' climbing up and down through a more than usually dense wood, we got sight of a ruined little wooden shed in a clearing, where an old man, leaning on a stick, came forward to salute us. Asking where the hot springs were to be found, he informed us it was here, and, sure enough, by looking carefully about us we found two holes about two square metres wide by one metre deep, containing hot water of peculiar, nasty taste and covered over with dry branches to form a shelter for the bathers. A little further on were two more holes, but all without any accommodation, and the whole affair looking rather dirty.

Nobody was living near this place, and people who wanted to profit by this wonderful bathing place had to accommodate themselves as best they could.

The old man was quite enthusiastic about the wonderful cures which had been performed by these waters, especially of a young girl who could not walk when she arrived, and every day got better, till after having taking 9 baths she could run a race with a goat. It made me think of Lourdes.

The old man suffered from rheumatism and was ordered by his doctor to take 9 baths every year for 9 years. Asking if he found himself any better, he looked rather doubtful and said he could not tell yet, as it was only his second year at this place. "If I only could get something to eat", he added, 'and not having to sleep on the damp ground, it would be better." I think the rheumatic old gentleman quite right in this respect. Anyhow, we had to put up with things which could not be altered in a hurry, and we set to work to fix up some shelter for the ladies and children. This we managed to do, leaving them quite cheerful the next day.

This is, by the way, not the only place where hot, mineral springs are found in the Cordilleras, and near the lake Huechu-Lauquen on the Argentine side, not far from the Villarica Pass, are springs exactly like these. The waters are the same as at many German baths, visited by thousands of people every year. By boring (as is done every year at the German springs), and by other proper arrangements this place at Huechu-Lauquen could easely be turned into a bathing place, as it is not only the waters which restore people in these places, but just as much the beautiful climate and pure mountain air. The only obstacle at present is the absence of communication by rail.

At Pucon, a small town on the eastern shore of lake Villarica, we dropped on civilization again in Don Clemente Holzappel's hospitable house, slept in a bed and had good meals. He is doing a roaring business with the Argentine settlers on the right side of the Cordilleras, using a Standard expression, which I very much doubt is right; the wrong side being quite as pretty, and the impression I carry with me of this journey in Valdivia's beautiful forests is infinitely more pleasant than crossing Argentina's immense barren Pampas. About 16 leagues farther on from Pucon we heard the first whistle of the iron horse, where the railroad is pushed ahead to the town of Valdivia and a branch line in construction to Villarica at the western side of the lake bearing this name.

At Temuco, a flourishing town, two days' journey from Pucon, we took the train to Santiago de Chile, passing no less than 72 stations with their corresponding towns or settlements in 16 hours; a distance of about 620 kilometres.

The capital of Chile is a pretty little town, but needs no description from my poor pen. The plaza, comprising only one square, struck me as being exceptionally pretty with its broad footpaths laid out with mosaic, where you can walk comfortably without having your corns pinched by coarse gravel, as in Plaza Mayo in dear old Buenos Aires.

There is plenty of tram communication, and you can drive along in an easy, comfortable way, not being bothered with long stoppages by the streets being blocked, as Santiago is not much of a business place.

Besides, you are not bored to death by conductors and inspectors asking for your ticket, which you have to present every blessed moment to show you are not a thief. In Santiago the "mayorales" are done away with, and replaced by girls dressed in a white apron and straw hat, in whose hand you drop your fare without receiving any "contraseña." This system appears to work well, and you feel quite respectable being thus trusted by the Company not to rob them, and I did not notice any "jovenes dorados" or other rowdies in Santiago, so the girls were quite unmolested.

The rock Santa Lucia, in the centre of the town, is quite a phenomenon, being a sort of natural Eiffel Tower, rising perpendicular to the height of 60 metres, from the top of which you have a splendid view over the town.

Travelling on the railway built by Mr. Clark towards the Uspallata Pass is very interesting; especially the terminus at the "Salto del Soldado" is very impressing, where, after passing a long, narrow tunnel, you find yourself right in the very heart of the Cordilleras. At the terminus coaches are waiting to take the passengers on to Juncal, at the foot of the Pass.

Here we breakfasted, and at 1 o'clock mounted mules to cross the Pass, arriving at "Las Cuevas" in Argentine Territory at half past three.

I need not describe the Uspallata Pass and surrounding mountains; wild, grand beauty, well known by most of your readers, but the scenery here is nothing like that to be seen in the South Cordillera, with its beautiful virgin forests and abundant vegetation, the Uspallata mountains being quite barren.

What struck me most, was the easy way in which this 3186 metre high Pass is crossed. There is a splendid road from each side leading zig-zag to the summit, and coaches pass without any danger; only it takes you double the time crossing in a coach as on the back of a mule. Another four hours drive along a comfortable road takes you to "Punta de las Vacas": the terminus of the Transandine railway.

We stopped at "Puente del Inca", about half-way to "las Vacas", to inspect and profit by the hot mineral springs underneath this remarkable bridge built by nature. These springs are like those at Panquin and Huechu-Leuquen, only cleaner and well kept.

The Transandine railway from "Las Vacas" to Mendoza is rather a stupendous work of engineering for this country, and very difficult to keep in working order. Not only had many bridges to be built and tunnels to be bored, but the most difficult and dangerous parts of the work are evidently where the road runs along the slope of the mountains, these not always being solid rocks, but loose gravel interspersed with big boulders, and in other places a sort of withered rock without any resistance in it. Besides, the numerous mountain brooks often carry big stones and gravel down on the banks and bridges, when heavy showers fall or the snow melts. We passed over several temporary wooden bridges, where the heavy iron girders of the permanent bridges were lying hundreds of feet below, washed away during a recent heavy rainfall. To finish the railway there is still wanted the principal tunnel under the Uspallata Pass, a formidable piece of work, I can tell you.

As it is, there is even now a good communication with Chile, much easier than I thought, and anybody who can afford to travel luxuriously, for instance, a rich man who has broken the bank at Mar del Plata, can drive with his own coach and pair straight from his house on the Flores road to a hotel in Santiago de Chile.

OPENING OF BRAZILIAN CONGRESS

The Brazilian Congress was opened on Wednesday last with the usual ceremony. The message, in dealing with foreign affairs, deplores the Civil War in Uruguay, and hopes that the country will soon be pacified. The part referring to the country's frontiers announces that the arrangement made with the Argentine Republic in reference to the tracing of the boundary Line in Misiones, will be carried out in accordance with the arbiter's decision on the matter. The Message furthermore gives an account of the arrangement of the boundary Line with Bolivia and that of Guiana with France, and the negotiations with England and Holland, as also the Italian Government's claims, fortunately settled, and the payment made of the indemnities. The Message of the President declares that cordial diplomatic relations prevail between Brazil and all other nations, and expresses the wish of being in closer friendship with all American Republics. The Message also deals with recent events in Bahia, the death of Colonel Moreira Cesar at Canudos while fighting against Conselheiro's fanatics, and concludes with a promise of an approaching victory which will put a speedy end to the matter.

The Message in dealing with the sanitary conditions of Rio Janeiro states that it is satisfactory, and gives an account of the scientific measures brought into practise to combat the plague and improve the sanitary state of the city. The questions between Campos and the Federal Courts have, says the Message, revealed the necessity there is of studying the codes in force and reform them in the parts which give rise to disputes. The Message also asks that the system of organizing the National Guard on land and sea be reformed, and that sailors should be exclusively recruited amongst Brazilians and specially amongst those on the Atlantic coast. The Message advocates the following:—Formation of the army by ballot, carrying out the military works, according to the resources of the Government. Garrisoning the frontier on a proper footing. Construction of the railway from Porto Alegre to Uruguayana. Also the establishment of Maritime Prefectures. on the system of some of the European Nations. Regulation of the Fishing Lands. Economy in the Army and Navy Service and the adoption of measures to prevent a repetition of the accident which occurred to the ironclad Riachuelo, but at the same time paying due attention to the keeping up of the Squadron. The progress of the country involves the spreading of the Telegraph and Postal Service and the necessity of increasing Railway Traffic in order to defray the expenses of constructing new lines. The Message opines that several contracts referring to the construction of Public Buildings should be rescinded, inasmuch as they prove a burden to the Treasury.

It advises the leasing of State Railways, and that it is necessary to provide the large cities in the republic with an abundance of drinkable water.

Besides the carrying out of other reforms, the projects of which the Executive already has prepared, and will duly submit them to Congress, the financial question is, according to the Message, a very serious one, owing to the constant decrease in the Revenue. The coffee crisis brought on by the falling off in prices in foreign markets has decreased public wealth, but it promises to improve in the near future. The present deficit will amount to forty thousand contos.

MESSAGE OF THE GOVERNOR OF ENTRE-RIOS

The message of the Governor of Entre-Rios amongst other things calls attention to the fact that only 814 immigrants arrived in the Province during the year 1896. The number is indeed very small when we consider the importance of Entre Rios, and its facilities for agriculture. The cultivation of 254.533 hectares of land under wheat and linseed show a loss of a little over seven millions of dollars. The Home Debt of the Province amounts to $5,272,505, and the Foreign Debt to £3,487,293. The service on the latter is at present suspended, and its renewal depends on the National Government. The Province cannot entertain any idea of making big sacrifices to regain her credit, as the Revenue has if anything decreased. This is explained taking into account the losses in agriculture and cattle. Owing to this, there is a deficit of close on $300,000. This is due to the system of adjusting the Expenditure List to the Province's resources, without leaving any margin for eventualities; thus, estimates are liable to be upset. A long chapter in the Message is devoted to Education, and reveals the necessity of carrying out reforms, which, put into practice would prove beneficial.

IRISH AGENCIES.

With reference to your recent notice as to the agency opened here by Sir John Power and Sons, distillers, Dublin, you call on other Irish houses to follow this example; but you may not be aware that the Dublin Distillers Company, Ltd., (Geo. Roe and Sons and Wm. Jamieson combined) also Dunvilles, the Cork Distillers Co., and last, tho' not least, the "Killicroy" brand, brewed at the Phœnix Park Distillery Co., Dublin, have all been represented here for years. Also that John Jamieson and Quinam and Co., Dublin, the latter the largest brewers in the world, sell largely, but these last two companies do not appoint special agents. Many other Irish manufacturers are also represented here, Matterson's of Limerick and Sinclair's of Belfast, two of the largest curers of hams and bacon in Ireland, whose products only require a trial to be appreciated.

Yours sincerely,
Paddy from Cork.

The next event in English fashionable society will be Mr. and Mrs. William Morgan's grand ball, at their charming quinta, "Los Cedros" at Quilmes, on Tuesday evening next. Numerous invitations have been issued by the hospitable hosts.

Leaving a balance of £2,425 7 0 to be carried forward.

The results of the six months' working can only be characterised as extremely disappointing. Up to the end of July last, everything promised well, ploughing was proceeding on a large scale, and the colonists were making every effort to recoup their losses of the past two years; more land was put under cultivation than in any previous year, and the prospects were distinctly encouraging; in August, however, locusts began to appear, and in September the Manager reported that the whole Province of Entre Rios was literally covered with them, and that they had cleared off the wheat and were devouring even the grass.

The Governor, in his recent Meesage to Congress. estimated that fully 90 per cent. of the crops had been destroyed. From the 650,000 acres sown, which were originally expected to yield 300,000 tons, it is stated that owing to storms and the devastation of the locusts, the total crop harvested will not exceed 15,000 tons, that is to say 5 per cent. of the whole.

Being thus left without the means of even purchasing seed, the agriculturists have petitioned for State aid, with the result that both the National and Provincial Governments have come to their assistance with a joint grant for this purpose of about £25,000.

The impoverished state of the country and its inhabitants has almost paralyzed trade and has naturally produced a corresponding fall in the Railway receipts. The half-year's revenue has not, as was hopnd, been credited with the £2,000 for the conveyance of troops by this railway during the mobilisation of the National Guard in May last, the Government maintaining on technical grounds that they are not liable, but their contention is being strenuously resisted, as it was manifestly a service rendered for which the Company is entitled, under the original Transfer Deed, to receive payment.

The receipts in sterling are approximately the same as they were during the first half year of 1895-6, due to the appreciation of the paper dollar, which has increased in value from 1s. 2d. to 1s 5d.

To meet the adverse circumstances no efforts have been spared, both at home and abroad, to bring the expenses to the lowest possible level, consistent with efficiency; the Manager has kept a close watch on all the spending departments, and the Directors on their part have contributed something by further reducing their fees. By this means, the expenditure, although appearing to have been increased in sterling by £2,273. 3s. 0d., represents as a matter of fact an actual economy of $42,345. This perhaps is the satisfactory feature of the present report, considering that from year to year the expenses have already been brought down to very narrow limits.

The Directors regret that there is on progress to report in the negotiations for the unification of the National and Provincial debts, which, owing to the resignation of Dr. Romero (the late National Finance Minister), still remain in abeyance. Meanwhile the arrears of interest on the Provincial Bonds held by the Company have been accumulating and now amount to £43,485.

The Board, while feeling it their duty to the Shareholders to give this plain statement of facts, which will appear disheartening to many, wish it to be understood that the causes which have so seriously affected the Railway during the past half-year are not of a permanent character, for which reason there is no ground for losing confidence in the recovery of the country and its continuous development under more favourable conditions.

Since the last Report, £800 of original bonds have been surrendered for conversion into shares of this Company, leaving only £3,300 of bonds outstanding out of the whole original issue of £3,276,400.

The Board desire to acknowledge the services of the Local representatives, the General Manager, and of the other Officers and Staff of the railway, both at home and abroad, during the past half-year.

To the Editor of the STANDARD—

Dear Sir,

If the Intendente of Buenos Aires is really desirous of correcting railway abuses, he might confer an inestimable boon on residents of the suburbs by suggesting to the various companies whose lines converge at the site of the burned Central Station, that in other large cities, both in England and in North America, there is an ordinance in force prohibiting the blowing of steam whistles, whether of locomotives or factories, within the city limits. The engineers on the railways, besides signalling by the use of the whistle (which is absolutely unnecessary), salute each other as their respective trains approach each other. The effect of this unexpected and dreadful noise on nervous persons is something fearful, and must be actually dangerous to life in the case of those suffering from heart weakness. The prolonged and penetrating whistles of several large factories in the city and in Belgrano as well, besides being a nuisance to those who are not early risers, must be a positive menace to the recovery of the number of sick who are necessarily in the immediate vicinity of the outrage.

Yours truly,
Kilwistle.

THE JUBILEE CELEBRATION.

The meeting, called for last night in Prince George's Hall, to receive the report of the committee appointed at the meeting held on the 21st ult., was but thinly attended, not more than forty gentlemen putting in an appearance.

The Hon. W. A. C. Barrington, who occupied the chair, asked what views the meeting held of the propositions put forward by the committee, the details of which had already been published.

The Revd. Pelham Ogle suggested that, from a religious point of view, a special service of thanksgiving and praise should be held, and for that purpose offered St. John's Anglican Church for Sunday, June 20th, and wished it to be in connection with the Scotch community. With respect to this, a letter was read from the Salvation Army suggesting the same thing, but it was considered by the meeting, that, as possibly our American Cousins, and likewise our German friends would also like to celebrate the occasion in a similar manner, one church would not be sufficiently large, and it was therefore decided that the religious celebration, should be left to the discretion of the clergy of each denomination.

Mr. J. Fox thought that if the meeting took into consideration this and that proposition, it would be detained all night.

He proposed that the recomendations of the Committee should be held good.

The Rev. J.W. Fleming in a long, and very strong address stated that the most important of all matters was the proper foundation of the Sailor's Home. He spoke of the financial condition of the Home, and various other matters in connection with it; of which full particulars have already appeared in these columns. With regard to the religious character of the Home, in reply to a remark of the Rev. A. S. Tisdall, he said it would be perfectly free to every creed and every denomination. If the scheme were carried through, the Home would be the property of all. To complete the matter, a sum of $60,000 would be required, which was a smaller sum than ever had been raised on any other patriotic occasion.

Dr. Alston again supported the theory of the "Victoria Endowment Fund" but could not find a seconder, and Mr. H. M. Mills having seconded Mr. Fox's motion it was carried.

With regard to the proposed Dramatic Performance, Mr. H. C. Thompson suggested that it be left in the hands of the Amateur Dramatic Club.

No proposal was made as to how the children were to be provided for at the performance at Frank Brown's Circus, nor was any further mention made of a free day for British employés.

It was finally decided that the existing committee should continue to act as the executive committee, and the meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the Chairman.

LA PLATA.

(From our own correspondent.)

May, 6th

The Ensenada Railway has asked permission to issue "Recreo" tickets from Delmonte station to Atalaya on the 25th 26th and 27th inst.

The Police have captured Gabriel Coronel who committed a murder in Las Flores in the year 1878!

The Chamber of Deputies has been summoned to meet to-morrow.

The F.C.C.A. commenced the construction of the line from Pergamino to Melincué on the 1st inst. Five hundred labourers are engaged in the work.

The line from Lobos to 25 de Mayo has been definitely finished.

THEATRES AND AMUSEMENTS.

Amongst the notable concerts to take place very shortly, must be mentioned that to be given by the distinguished German pianist, Herr Rebeur-Paschwit, at the Operai Italiani on Monday nextz the proceeds to go to the funds of the "Society of German Ladies." The programme is very well selected, consisting, as is only natural, of the works from German masters; Haydn, Handel, Schubert, Schumann and Chopin providing most of the music, besides which there will be two pieces composed by Herr Paschwitz himself.

The Grand benefit to be given by Frank Brown to-morrow, to assist the Police and Firemen of the Capital is creating wonderful enthusiasm, and already almost every one of the boxes has been taken by the leading, native families.

The programme on this occassion, will be divided into three parts, the first being filled by Miss Taylor, he Nagels, Paco Busto and others. In the second part is the successful "Viennese Orchestra" the duettists Vargas and Bisaccia, other artists also appearing, whilst the Water Pantomime will conclude the progamme. The Police Band will perform during the evening.

"Il ratto delle Sabine" drew a large audience to the Politeama last night, and from the first appearance on the stage of Novelli until the fall of the curtain, the laughter was continuous. The character of Tromboni, the actor, gives great opportunities to Novelli, of which he takes every advantage, with the result that the piece is a wonderful success.

To-night "Noche de Moda," Novelli will appear in Faust.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

President Uriburu opens Congress to-day with the usual ceremony, and all doubts and hopes about the contents of the Message will be at an end before pick-me-up hour this evening. Of course nobody cares a snap for any part of the long rigmarole except Dr. Escalante's chapter on the finances. The Gold Eagle seems to think that this particular chapter won't be so rose-coloured and his Imperial Birdship looked in renewed health and spirits at both rings yesterday, after his nasty falls of the previous days. The Bruins looked as if they had done a trifle too much "discounting" to be profitable.

The Turks and Greeks in our midst got greatly excited yesterday at the conflicting accounts of the Battle of Pharsalus, and eagerly devoured the telegrams in the evening papers. Many of them hung about the offices of the morning papers till a late hour trying to pick up some news as to the telegrams to be published this morning. The Greeks frankly admitted that if they lost the battle, there would be little further chance for them on the North side of the Othrys range. The Turks on their side felt certain that their troopers would soon be watering their horses in the grand square at Athens.

Our quotation of Micky Free's song "I'd make a most illigant Turk, for I'm fond of tobacco and ladies" with reference to the formation of a Phil-hellenic Society here, appears to have been most unfortunate, and we beg to assure the members of the Society that we had no wish to cast any aspersion on them. In their intense patriotism, always an admirable feature, whether of Greek or Turk, they have given way to a feeling of misgiving that we are desirous of damping their enthusiasm. Not at all. We are impartial "Tros Tyriusve etc."

Never have we seen finer specimens of crayon and pastel work than those now on exhibition at Bossi's in Calle Cuyo, and we strongly recommend our readers to have a look at them. The two big St. Bernard dogs in crayon form a marvellous picture; they positively appear to be alive. A landscape, also in crayon is equally well done, and must have involved much patient work. There are three specimens of pastel, a sea scene off Sicily, a village scene and a country church. We dety any professional artist to surpass these three works in admirable detail and finish. The fair artist is Miss Elena Berdier, and we most warmly congratulate her on her great artistic talent; also her teacher, our old friend Mr. Homberger, who must feel very proud indeed of his clever and charming pupil.

We offer our heartfelt condolence to Mrs Fahy, relict of our old and much esteemed friend the late Mr. David Fahy, on her terrible bereavement by the death of her two daughters within a few days of each other. The blow is a sad one, and will cause a wide circle of friends to mourn with her.

It's good to be governess to a queen Miss Winter, the English governess of Wilhelmina, the young Queen of Holland, has now returned to her home, in England, pensioned for life to the tune of £500 per annum, her salary having been £800 a year. Moreover, she has been loaded with presents by both queens.

The cable has been busy with telegrams from this city to Paris and vice-versa since the awful catastrophe in the Rue Gonjon. Only two persons connected with the River Plate perished: the Baronne de St. Didier, and Señora Carbonnel, sister of the distinguished lawyer Dr. Emilio Daireaux, with whom we most sincerely condole on the tragic event.

If a telegram to the Tiempo last evening be true, the state of Europe has become very serious indeed. In all European crises, the London Stock Exchange is the last to take fright, being cooler-headed and better informed than the Continental Bourses. Our colleague's wire from London reports first a rapid fall in all securities, and a panic at the close in Capel Court yesterday. This looks like the threatened general conflagration, on which the Greeks rely, even if beaten by Turkey, to come "con provecho" out of their present srruggle.

The Zither Club is on the eve of giving a grand ball at the Schwertzer Haus in Calle Rodriguez Peña, in honour of Mr. S. Münding, connected with the firm of of Malhmann and Co., so well known in this market. Mr. Münding will shortly leave for Austria, where he proposes to reside permanently. The ball promises to eclipse all others given by this Club, to judge by the number of invitations issued and the grand preparations that are being made.

The unfortunate Juzgado of the first section is always in hot water. The Alcalde has now been arrested on a charge of fraud. He is accused of having not only collected Municipal dues, but also of having forgotten to render any account of them. If true, what surprises one most is that any man should have the impudence to attempt such a swindle since he must be perfectly aware that discovery is absolutely unavoidable.

King Leopold of Belgium has announced his intention of visiting his possessions on the Congo next spring. He is to be accompanied by Stanley, and will preside at the opening of the railroad between Matavai and Leopoldville. The king has not visited Africa since his trip along the east coast while still Duke of Brabant, prior to his accession to the throne.

The St. Andrew's Debating Society will meet to-night at 8.15, when there will be a discussion on the Eastern Question and a motion will be made that Britain's policy in the East is unworthy of support.

We find the following flattering announcement in the North American Review of a series of articles from the pen of our brother editor: In the May number of the North American Review will begin a series of articles of surpassing interest to all American readers, on the Progress of the United States, by Michael G. Mulhall, F.S.S., the famous British statistician. Mr. Mulhall has in recent years made a special study of this subject, on which he is to-day, probably, the greatest living authority; and the story he tells in his papers is one of astounding progress, which, as he says, "far surpasses that of any other nation in ancient or modern times." The first article, to be published in the May number, will be devoted to the New England States, and monthly thereafter articles will appear on the Middle, the Southern, the Prairie and the Pacific States, in the order here given.

More sentimental nonsense? The commercial treaty between Brazil and Chile was signed in Rio the other day with a solid gold pen, the handle of which was set with diamonds and sapphires. In no part of Central or South America does it seem possible to get through the simplest thing, even business, without gold pens, flags, drums, trumpets, speeches, 'abrazos', and a profuse display all round of liberty, equality and fraternity, whenever there is the faintest pretext for a festive racket.

What a farce the distribution of Cedulas to the distressed farmers is. A case is mentioned in Parana where the owner of a farm which is worth in the market, $10,000 was given $1200 in Cedulas which with expenses deducted are worth about $750 in cash!! Queer kind of relief this is.

Some of our colleagues on the wrong side of the mighty Andes are very angry with the Argentine Editorial Bus, especially that big passenger the Prensa, for the appreciations published here of all the recent Chilo-Brazilian kissing and hugging and cheering in Rio and Santiago. As we have said before, the whole powwow was ridiculous in the extreme.

Jonathan! Jonathan! The news that the Washington Senate had thrown out the Arbitration Treaty with Great Britain made a bad impression on both North American and British residents yesterday. All said it was a pity, as the celebration of such a friendly treaty would have been a most appropriate pendant to the Queen's Diamond Jubilee. However, it is not definitely settled yet.

There seems to be a general opinion, amongst those interested in the matter, that the site chosen for the coming Industrial Exhibition, on the Port lands near the Retiro, is by no means up to the mark. It will take a mint of money to clear and level the ground: and what's the use of squandering money on a grand new building, when the Rural Society's diggings at Palermo can easily and cheaply be enlarged and touched up for the occasion?

Lord Beaconsfield was the only man who ever succeeded in getting the Prince of Wales to play for small stakes. The prince was on a visit to Hughenden, and after dinner the usual game was suggested. When the stakes were announced, "Dizzy" turned pale. He was a comparatively poor man, and feared to risk so much money. A bright idea occurred to him. It was just after the queen had been crowned Empress of India, and "Dizzy" suggested, "Wouldn't it be more suitable to make it 'crown' points?" The prince was so pleased with the mot that he consented.

We thank our esteemed Trans-Jordan contemporary the Montevideo Times for its specially nice salute on our 37th anniversary. By the way, in reference to our remarks the other day on the great increase in the number of English shops in this city in recent years, our colleague mourns the fact that exactly the reverse is happening in the capital of poor Uruguay, where there are not half a dozen shops owned by Britishers. In former years there were a very fair number of English shops in what we use to call then the Queen City of the Plate, but that proud title no longer pertains to our little neighbour.

We offer our most sincere condolence to our esteemed friend Mr. Alfredo Fernandez on the tragic bereavement that has steeped his home in mourning. His little daughter of four years, on Wednesday ran into a room the floor of which was being washed, and fell into a large bucket full of boiling water, and was so badly scalded that she died in two hours. A most lamentable accident.

We are truly sorry to learn that letters have been received announcing an accident to Señora Florinda Fernandez de Penard, while on the voyage to Europe. In the Gulf of Gascony, on a stormy day, she fell down the cabin stairs and fractured one of her arms; On arrival she had to be carried on shore in a chair. We are happy to say that the latest accounts report her to be recovering rapidly.

A gossip exchange from UncleSamland says: "Here is an amusing instance of British class formality. The lady's maid of Mrs. Benevolent was stricken down with typhus fever, and Mrs. Benevolent, having a great liking for the maid, declared she would nurse the girl herself. This she did, through a long illness, and after her complete restoration to health, the maid was asked to resume her duties. Her answer was an expression of gratitude for the kindness and care she had received, concluding with the sorrowful "regret that I shall not be able to return to your service, as I can not engage myself to one who is not a lady, and of course no lady would have nursed and waited upon a servant as you have done in my case."

We return our best thanks to all our colleagues of all nationalities who have been, one after the other, saluting us and saying kind things of the STANDARD since its 37th anniversary on the 1st inst. We sincerely reciprocate their good wishes.

A young mother, holiday making with her baby-boy, wrote to her husband: "We are doing first-rate and enjoying ourselves very much. We are in fine health. The boy can crawl about on all fours.. Hoping the same can be said of you. I remain, etc., Fanny."

Special Notice.

THE ST. ANDREW'S DEBATING SOCIETY

There will be a debate to-night at 352 Peru, at 8.15, when the first speaker will move "That England's policy in the East has been unworthy of support". The subject is one that should lead to an interesting and exciting debate.

FIRST RING..... 191.00
SECOND RING..... 192.30

We are on the eve of the opening of Congress and consequently awaiting the reading of the Message, which it is supposed will tell the market so much about the state of the finances, conditions of credit, and other items illustrative as regards the situation in past, present and future mood. But supposing the late slump to have been the premature offspring of "great expectations," it is strange that before gestation is quite at an end the reaction should have already set in. That is how the thing is shaping. The market has already discounted the Message on the strength of a matured experience of what the official utterance invariably means, and naturally, the effect made, there is no room for further impression. As late as yesterday the market was convinced, against its grain, that gold was bound straight for 280; to-day with the veering round of the current, opinion is only divided as to when the Rubicon will be within hail again. But it is a very poor, weak-kneed market altogether, no thews, no bone, no energy; a matter of $20,000 or 30,000 gold dollars, a mere fleabite, rocks it about and shakes it to pieces. It used not to be so, but times have changed. Castells banged away millions in his day without being able often to create a ripple; now a miserable 10,000 dollars makes a wave. It is all because the market is no longer an absorbing power, and despite the grim winter heaving up, with produce failing and exchange dropping, business houses crashing and credit contracting, it is quite possible that the advance in gold prices will be of no great moment. People think there is a super-abundance of gold and ample exchange to pull through the winter; there is neither one nor the other, but, of course, if the demand be a minimum it amounts to the same thing. However, the main point is that the fall has been pulled up short for the present.

Apart from fair amounts done for cash and end of month there was not much interest in gold. The rate opened at 289.50, but hardened from the start, and before the bears, in the rush to cover, had time to say "Jack Robinson" the price had slipped up on them as much as two points. Then the rally took place, and when the bell rang out the price was just firm at 291. Half point pass was paid for end of month. In stocks some Spanish Banks were done at 127 and Buenos Aires Ports at 25, which is a good price considering how all other stocks have given way; and indeed it is only necessary to ask dealers in stocks how the market is, to get a very comprehensive idea of the flatness of everything. The blackboard on 'Change used by the brokers to announce the stock they have on offer is choked up; the other one, the companion on which stocks are solicited, is a blank, and it is not dummies, unsaleable stocks, that are offered either, but all the best descriptions in the market to-day. He who runs may read.

The following is a summary of the business effected at the first ring to-day:—

Mr. Henry M. Nelson, well known agricultural expert or engineer, as the title goes here, and editor in chief of our leading bucolic colleague La Produccion Argentina was welcomed to-day. He had to hurry down from the very north of the Republic, the Puna de Atacama, where he is acting as sub-commissioner for the Parliamentary Commission of Investigation on the country's resources, to speed his lieutenant Don Carlos Lix-Klett for the States, and re-organize his editorial office. He journeys north again on Monday next. As to the result of his observations and studies on the northern frontier, Mr. Nelson says he expects his report will call much attention when printed, as shewing the great natural riches and resources of Salta and Jujui, and the almost primeval simplicity of all conditions there. The mineral wealth is enormous, but cannot be developed for lack of roads and means of communication. Mr. Nelson says Bolivia is the natural market, and the Bolivian railway therefore a paramount necessity. It will open up the country and bring capital and labour into play, which are the only conditions requisite to set the north stirring. Everything else is there.

a banquet last night in the rendezvous of many a classic sharpening of appetites and spirits, the Café de Paris. The banquet was given by the Scientific Association on the occasion of Dr. Berg's departure for Europe. It was a revival of old times. Round the table were seated Dr. Angel Gallardo, president of the Association, Dr. Basavilbaso, rector of the University, Dr Valentin Balbin, Mr J. J. Kyle, Don Carlos M. Morales, Messrs A. Ibargaren, Luis A. Huergo, E. Aguirre, Otamendi, Rospide, Hainard, Obligado, Ambrosetti, Bustamante and many others. Dr. Gallardo toasted Dr. Berg in a splendid speech setting forth all the meritorious work to which the parting guest had linked his name. Dr. Berg made a sensible reply, toasting his adopted country and the Association, which had lent him valuable assistance in his work.

The market is reported again swept clean of exchange, which seems quite probable, with two important packets leaving to-morrow and Saturday, whilst bills are so scarce that it does not require much to make a vacuum. Brokers reported 47 ¼d. done to-day, though again it was said that a private bank was drawing freely at that rate. In fact the market is rather at odds and ends, and all kinds of rates quoted. We give the quotations:

London—47 9/16d.
Paris—4.98 fcs.
Antwerp—4.97½ fcs.
Hamburg—406 marks

"Memorias" are pouring in now. The Governors, Ministers and Mayors are all anticipating H. E. the President, who speaks to-morrow, so that it is as much as we can do to acknowledge the awful mass of pamphlet matter pressing in. It is a climatic failing, which we hope to see cured by degrees. If the pamphlets were only confined to practical limits, it would not be so bad, but Dr. Nansen made his Arctic trip to and from the North Pole in fewer words than a Governor takes to tell the state of his finances. The last memoria to hand is that of our Lord Mayor, Dr. Alcobendas. It is not nearly so bad as others, but is still altogether too diffusive. We shall review it shortly.

Don Pancho Nocetti, the popular broker, was welcomed to-day on his return from his fine estancia in Venado Tuerto. He reports everything out there doing well, but does not intend sowing any wheat this year, as last year's experience has cured him of all taste for agriculture. And it was not the locusts that did the harm either. He escaped the plague, but was not a whit better off, as the intense heat shrivelled the crop up and left nothing. He gets $30 gold for his steers, and finds it a better business to raise meat for Deptford than crops for the locusts to eat up or the elements to destroy.

The Provincial Mortgage Bank sold at auction 2 lots of land in Flores, one measuring 239x372 metres and another 186x446 metres with an upset price of 236,711 for $255,500 to J.M. Bidau also 17,802 metres of Chacra land in La Plata for $1190 to José Filardi.

Business in gold was again the reverse of brisk at the second hour and without much fluctuation in price. The rate opened at 291.20 to close at 292.30, but after the hour it fell off again, and was quoted at 291.50, at 5 o'clock coinciding the fall with a rumour that the Message will declare all the funds for payment of the Debt to end of year in London already. Though this is very favorable it has been an open secret for some time, so that the impression was slight. What is puzzling the market really is the weakness of gold, with the outlook so gruesome. However, the fall seems to be arrested for the present, which relieves tension, as it looks natural. A continuance would only have provoked a violent reaction. The pass for end of month stretched to nearly a point, with a further 1¼ point for June. Stocks as usual flat, some Catalinas done at 7.40 to 7.30, and Santa Fé Consols at 39.50, which are firm rates, but dealers report the market dead and alive right through.

The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks and shares at the second ring:—

Messrs Antonio Etchegaray and L.M. Pinazo have been admitted on Change as brokers and Messrs D.A. Videla, Luis Ancizo, A. Guardado, M.E. Hurtado, Alexander, S. Mac Nally and Natal A. de Torres have solicited admission as same.

Another very important failure is reported. Messrs. Lacroze and Co., wine merchants of Calle Callao, have applied for a moratorium, presenting a balance-sheet in which the assets are returned at $268,665, and the liabilities at $255,275. The firm points out that the embarrassed state of the market prevents it from complying with its obligations. Thus the list grows apace. Day after day there are more heads falling, and it is not one particular "gremio" but all kinds and conditions that are showing the stress. It is very ominous. For nearly half a century things have never been so thoroughly bad in business lines before, and though there is every reason to suppose and hope that the market will weather the storm there is no use in trying to look at it with closed eyes and indifferent spirit. It was expected that the succession of bad years in agriculture would cause difficulty, but the difficulty is now a crisis almost, and growing fast, swelling like a snow ball. The houses are restricting their expenditure in every way, even to reducing their staff. It looks like a bad winter, truly.

In the lawsuit Central and South American Telegraph Co v. The River Plate Telegraph Co. the respective lawyers broke a lance about a question of costs yesterday. The courts had ruled that the jurisdiction did not hold and gave a verdict with costs for the River Plate Co. which the other Company's lawyer impugned. The legal luminaries went into the question at great length and the Court has withheld its decision.

It seems that we are likely to send less and less "tasajo" to Brazil as what with the fall in exchange, rise in the duties and fall in the price of the article in the Brazilian mrrket there is no longer any business in it. In addition to this the coffee crisis is also producing a disastrous effect, and as the coffee does not sell outstandings are difficult to realize and credit almost stifled. Things on the whole could hardly be worse and they do not look much like mending either. The ways of Republics are not strewn with rose leaves.

The commercial cables to-day give Fundings at 85¾, Combed B wool at 3.65 francs, wheat at 29s., linseed at 30s. and maize 14s. The markets were again very dull, wool being flat and without movement, whilst in cereals there is nothing abnormal about the business in spite of good prices ruling. Hides and sheepskins continue firm.

In order to finish as quickly, as possible the dredging of the Martin Garcia channel, two Commissions are to be selected by the Department of Public Works.

Messrs Repetto and Co. have petitioned the Minister of the Interior for payment of $5000 for work done on the bridge over the Rio Vatel in Corrientes province.

The Finance Minister has named Messrs. N. Achaval, W. White, R. Ayerza, L. Silveyra, Villalonga, and N. Ortiz Viola, as a Commission to revise the Regulations for the despatch through the Custom House of railway materials.

The Finance Minister has given Messrs Furtado and Co. permission to open their "almacenes" in Calle Pedro Mendoza as Fiscal deposits for lumber of all kinds.

Government has approved the plans for the erection of an Artillery barracks at Liniers, to cost $587,402.

During the month of April, the National Treasury paid out $2.130,800 gold, and $9.134,800 currency. This is a very large amount for a single month.

CHLORODYNE
Original and only Genuine.
Vice Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated publicly in Court that Dr. J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne, and that the whole story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue and he regretted to say it had been sworn to.—Times, July 13th 1864,
Dr J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne
The Right Hon. Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians and J. T. Davenport that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in cholera was Chlorodyne.—See Lancet, December 31st 1864.
Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne
«I was prescribedfor by scores of orthodox practioners. Of course it would not be thus singularly popular did it not «supply» a want and fill a place.»—Medical Times, Jan 2th 1866.

KEATING'S LOZENGES.

"A Simple Fact about" KEATING'S COUGH LOZENGES. Ask through the world, in any country that can be named, you will find them largely sold. There is absolutely no remedy that is so speedy in giving relief, so certain to cure and yet the most delicate can take them.

"A TERRIBLE COUGH."

"94 Commercial Road, Peckham, July 12
"Dear Sir,—I am a poor hand at expressing my feelings, but I should like to thank you. Your lozenges have done wonders in relieving my terrible cough. Since I had the operation of 'Tracheotomy' (the same as the late Emperor of Germany, and unlike him, thank God, I am still alive) performed at St. Bartholomew's Hospital, no one could possibly have had a more violent cough; it was so bad at times that it quite exhausted me. The mucus, which was very copious and hard, has been softened, and I have been able to get rid of it without difficulty.—I am, sir, yours truly, J. HILL."

UTTERLY UNRIVALLED.
UTTERLY UNRIVALLED.

The above speaks for itself. From strict inquiry it appears that the benefit from using Keating's Cough Lozenges is under stated. The operation was a specially severe one, and was performed by the specialist, Dr. H. I. Butlin, of St. Bartholomew's Hospital. Since the operation the only means of relief is the use of these Lozenges. So successful are they that one affords immediate benefit although from the nature of the case the throat irritation is intense.

WEIGHT IN GOLD.
WEIGHT IN GOLD.

Under date Sept. 8th. 1891, Mr. Hill again writes:—"I should long since have been dead but for your Lozenges—they are worth their weigh in gold. I will gladly are and tell anyone what a splendid cough remedy they are."

Keating's Cough Lozenges, the unrivalled remedy for Coughs, Hoarseness, and Throat Troubles, are sold in Tins and Bottles by all Chemists.

Rowland's
Macassar
Oil

Is the best preserver and beautifier of the hair of children and adults; prevents it falling off or turning grey, eradicates scurf, and is the best brilliantine, and a little goes a very long way it really is most economical for general use; is sold in a golden colour for fair-haired ladies and children: it contains no lead or mineral ingredients, and as it has a most delightful perfume, it is the most luxurious dressing for the hair. Bottles, 3s. 6d, 7s, 10s. 6d.

Rowlands' Kalydor.

A soothing, healing and emollient milk for the face and hands, and is most cooling and refreshing to the skin in hot climates; it removes freckles, tan, sunburn, roughness and redness of the skin, pimples, cutaneus eruptions, etc., soothes and heals prickly heat, stings of insects, eczema, burns, and all cutaneous irritation more effectually than any other preparation, and produces oft fair skin, and a lovely delicate complexion; it is warranted harmless, and free from any lead or poisonous ingredients.

Bottles, 2s. 3d. and 4s. 6d.

Rowlands' Odonto

Is a pure, fragrant, non-gritty tooth powerd and warranted free from acids or other ingredients which destroy the enamel; it whitens the teeth, prevents and arrests decay, strengthens the gums, and gives a pleasing fragrance to the breath. Sold by Druggists and Chemists.

IMPORTANT CAUTION.—Be sure to ask for Rowlands' Macassor Oil, Kalydor and Odonto, of 20, Hatton Garden, London, and see that each article bears their signature in red ink; all others are worthless and poisonous imitations; 100 years prove that Rowlands' are the best and only genuine.
